Extra information for PreO

The back-up paper competition cards:

The competitors obtain back-up paper (water resistant) for each stage in relevant competition morning.

The controls can be visited in free order.

The carousels will be placed on opposite side of road as decision points. There are a lot of carousels on some places so be careful.

There are some tasks with double flags to improve visibility.

Few words from organizer

PreO 1

The first day of PreO competition consists of 40 controls on a two-part course. We would happily set up a few more, but our crazy ideas were stopped by what the results software can accept, and nobody was crazy enough to mess with the code at the last minute. The road goes along the valley, with most controls placed higher on the slopes (including tasks where you will be looking above the trees and bushes). The majority of the tasks require understanding stone and rock features, which are everywhere here. There are two timed controls on the course, one between the parts and another at the end.

PreO 2

On the second day there are 33 more PreO tasks waiting on a short course. Shorter than yesterday, as other fun things are scheduled for the evening. No break in the course this time, you need to be focused all the way from start to finish. We have more stones and rocks for you (but no more after this, so enjoy while it lasts), this time on a flat road going along a slope, so you will have to look both up and down a lot, and sometimes even all the way across the valley (quite a narrow one, so no serious long distance control, but the sound of water flowing is nice, especially if it rained a bit). The two timed controls are both after the finish.
